THE LINE-UP.

The line-up of Georgia Congressmen as to Cannonism has often been inaccurately given. Those who supported the Fitzgerald compromise and who now say "Cannonism" is a fake are Livingston, Brantley, Lee, Howard, Griggs and Edwards. The two straight-out Democrats who follow Leader Clark under all circumstances are Hardwick and Bartlett, while the three neutrals on the fence are Adamson, Bell and Hughes.

The six "bolters" named have issued a statement, in which they say the Speaker should appoint the committees of the House, and in the course of which they defend Uncle Joe while they assail Leader Clark and the Democratic majority. They have not formally withdrawn from the party, as have two of the bolters, namely, Mr. Kelleher, of Massachusetts, and Mr. Broussard, of Louisiana.

The caucus of Democratic members held on Monday night did not expel any one from the party, preferring to turn over the "23" to their respective constituencies, but the caucus did express its convictions concerning them very freely, as follows:

"First. We deplore the action of those Democrats who supported the Fitzgerald plan of saving Cannonism. This action was in conflict with the action of their party, in violation of its platform pledge, and we believe, of overwhelming Democratic sentiment. We deplore the party, in the House, disavows their action, and disclaims all responsibility therefor.

"Second. Under the guise of giving to the Democracy of the House representation on the rules committee, Speaker Cannon appointed on the rules committee as a Democratic member the proponent of the Fitzgerald resolution, who is opposed to the Democracy of the House in its fight to reform the rules and is in accord with the Speaker; he appointed on the ways and means committee as a Democratic member a gentleman known to be wholly opposed to the Democratic tariff view and shown by his vote to be opposed to any change in the Cannon rules.

"We condemn the false pretenses of the Speaker, that in these appointments he has granted to the Democracy representation on the said committees, and we hereby declare that in neither of these appointments is the Democracy of the House or the country represented, and we decline to recognize such appointees as representatives of our party on said committees."

None of the six Georgia bolters attended the caucus, and it is difficult at present to say just where they "are at." The caucus wisely left the final decision in the cases of the bolters to their respective constituencies.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

BOOKS THAT EDUCATE.

President Eliot, late of Harvard and who is the one man, perhaps, above all others who has made his impress upon the college curriculum of the time, has been honoring a number of North Carolina cities as institutions of learning with his presence and with talks this week. He is the colner of the "five-foot shelf" as capable of containing all the books essential for a liberal education.

In this statement he will find the multitude agreeing with him. But the filling of that shelf is another matter, and one that is going to be rife with controversy as to the selection of the books with which to stock it. Julia Ward Howe says the first ten books on that shelf should be the Bible, Pilgrim's Progress, Hamlet, Julius Caesar, Paradise Lost, Homer's Iliad, Odes of Horace, the Pickwick Papers, Percy's Religues, and Ivanhoe. This is a good beginning for, say, 50 volumes that a five-foot shelf would hold.

After all, is not President Eliot's list longer than is necessary in order to give its owner a liberal education? When General Pettus, of Alabama, went to California in '49 he said to have carried on his back—for he went overland—his library, and that library consisted of three books—the Bible, Shakespeare and Bobby Burns. No one can name three other books that would supplant in a carefully selected library the three that General Pettus carried to California. He had the very cream of English literature—the very top of human wisdom and workmanship. The three should stand at the beginning of the five-foot shelf, and the regret is that the other 47 would not rank well up to them. English literature is, however, as rich and cultured as any other, and it is not possible to find any other 47 books that could fittingly be lined up behind General Pettus' select library of three.

ABOUT "HOME FOLKS."

Mrs. W. F. Hollingsworth Entertains the Papyrus Book Club.

The current weekly issue of the "News-Herald," of Morganton, contains the following that will be read with interest by Mrs. Hollingsworth's many friends in this city, her old home:

"On Thursday, at 3:30 p. m., the Papyrus Book Club met with Mrs. W. F. Hollingsworth, at the manse. Three of the regular members being unable to attend, Mrs. A. C. Chaffee, Mrs. A. M. Kistler and Mrs. Ed. Alexander were invited guests. It proved one of the most delightful social and literary events of the season.

"On entering the parlor, rich in oil paintings and water colors, a pretty picture by Turner, a brilliant crayon by Millet, a beautiful 'Sunset' by Lauraine, bronzes, jades, vases and other adornments, the guests felt that it had about it the atmosphere of a rare, sweet, indefinable quality, that few women, even, can impart to inanimate things. It was Madam Hollingsworth's afternoon, and the Czar and Czarina had been assigned as her subject. She not only read an exceedingly interesting and instructive paper on Russian government, forms, ceremonies and habits, but in her own charming conversational way gave some striking and beautiful thoughts on the official and domestic life of these distinguished crowned heads. A general and inspiring discussion of the subject in hand followed, and then the guests were invited to the dining room, and a lovely room it is. The dainty china, brilliant cut-glass, gleaming silver and snow-white linen lent of their beauty to the rare mahogany furnishings, while the gracious hospitality of the hostess imparted a finer flavor to viands that would have aroused the envy of 'acullus. Flowers, too—sweet harbingers of spring—lay in profusion on a centerpiece that was faultless in design and finish and was greatly admired.

"One of the guests, noted for aptness of thought and classic culture, in speaking of the unchanging color of the flowers, said, 'How different our hostess, 'Her color comes and goes Now I trembles to a lily; Now it wakens to a rose.'"

NOW IT'S THE WIRELESS

Its Fake Would Have Come More Opportunely April 1st.

A Canard Sent Broadcast To-day Charged Up to the Wireless

That the Battleship Mississippi Had Blown Up.

Washington, D. C., March 27.—1 p. m.—The Guantanamo report of an explosion on the battleship Mississippi is false. A telephone message has been received from the naval station that reports the vessel lying at anchor at Guantanamo, east of island, opposite Hayti, with all battleships of the third squadron, Atlantic division, and there is no indication of any disturbance in the fleet.

First Reports.

Key West, Fla., March 27.—Wireless operator states that he has received a message from Guantanamo that the battleship Mississippi was blown up at 6:30 o'clock this morning and all on board were lost.

Washington, D. C., March 27.—The Bureau of navigation has received a report that the battleship Mississippi had been destroyed at Guantanamo. Real Admiral Pillsbury is investigating.

Washington, D. C., March 27.—At 9:10 this morning the Navy Department had received no confirmation of the reported blowing up of battleship Mississippi. Admiral says he does not believe the report.

Washington, D. C., March 27.—No confirmation of the reported battleship Mississippi disaster is obtainable. The government is unable to get in communication with Guantanamo up to 10:30 o'clock. The authorities, though, discredited the report.

THE WOMAN IN THE CASE.

Willie Whitla's Female Kidnapper Committed to Jail Today.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 27.—Helen Boyle, wife of James Boyle, kidnapper of "Billy" Whitla, was today removed to jail at Mercer, where her husband is held to await trial. She today denied any relationship with McDermott. She said that McDermott, who lives in Chicago, is coming to Pittsburg to identify her; but says that she is not his daughter and that he will have all his trouble for nothing.

Great Mine Disaster Today.

Zwickau, Germany, March 27.—Twenty-four persons were killed today and a score terribly injured by the breaking of cable by which a cage was being lowered into a coal mine here. The cage dropped more than a hundred feet. Mine engineers say that the cable was recently examined and found to be in perfect condition.

HANDS CRACKED RAW AND SCALY

Itched and Burned Terribly—Arms Affected, Too—Could Not Move Thumbs Without Flesh Cracking—Sleep and Work Often Impossible—Was Fairly Worn Out.

CUTICURA SOON CURED HIS FEARFUL ECZEMA

"About a year ago an itching humor began to appear around the back of my hand. It started in to spread, and pretty soon it covered both my hands and got up over my wrists and even up to the elbows. The itching and burning were terrible. My hands got all scaly and when I scratched, as was doing a good part of the time, the surface would be covered with blisters and then get raw. The eczema got so bad in around the pit of my thumbs that I could not move the thumbs without flesh cracking. I went to my doctor, but his medicine could only stop the itching and did not seem to heal my hands up at all. At night I suffered so fearfully that I could not sleep, often lying awake until well toward morning, then waking up still tired. I am a chef and steward by trade and I had to give up my place, as my hands were so terrible to look at that they did not like to have me around about the food. I could not bear to touch them with water, but when I positively had to get my hands clean I would rub them with oil.

"This sort of business went on for three months and I kept trying ointments and each remedy with no particular benefit. I did not know what to do, for I was fairly worn out. For a long time several friends kept asking me why I didn't use Cuticura and at last I thought I would. First I got the Cuticura Soap, then Cuticura Ointment and at last Cuticura Resolvent. I put the Cuticura Ointment on at night, covering my hands with light cotton gloves. In the morning the inside of the gloves would be lined with scales, sometimes half as long as your finger, leaving nice healed places where the scales had been. In a month I was cured and have kept so now for nine months. My hands and arms are perfectly clear of all traces of eczema and I think I am well rid of it. Walter H. Cox, 16 Somerset St., Boston, Mass., Sept. 25, 1908."

Cuticura Remedies are sold throughout the world. Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, Cuticura Resolvent. Mail Free. Cuticura Book on Skin Diseases.

PINE-ULES for the Kidneys 30 DAYS' TREATMENT FOR $1.00

SOUND TO THE CORE.

The general field of business presents some facts that are encouraging. For example the deficit of the Federal treasury in March will probably be less than $2,000,000, so large has been the increase in imports, and the hope is now expressed that the deficit of the fiscal year will not exceed $100,000,000. Three months ago the prospects were it would go to $130,000,000.

The report of the Steel corporation for 1908 is also encouraging because it shows that the iron and steel industry can be profitably conducted. Its surplus at the end of 1908 was but $5,000,000 less than it was one year before.

Immigrants are beginning to turn again to this country. Over 25,000 were landed in a week recently. The tide of immigration is considered a pretty good barometer, for in some way these people ascertain before they leave their old homes what awaits them in the new homes they seek.

The truth is, the country is sound to the core. The currency is sound even if it be inelastic. Gold is a drug on the market. Comparatively few business failures are occurring. A better feeling exists between the people and the railroads. Business will be better when the tariff bill is passed and it will be better still if the fall season brings us good crops.
